Weekly Update from
Immanuel Lutheran School, Hutchinson, MN

November 4, 2023

Hi volunteers,

A few of us returned yesterday to start installing doors. That entails hinges, locks, closing device, kick plates, stops, pulls, sweeps, thresholds, weather stripping and drip caps on the exterior doors, and some magnetic releases on the fire doors. I'm probably forgetting some things too. We'll be at it for a few days next week yet.

The bathroom tile people will be starting on the 13th and when they are done we will be able to return to finish up grab bars, bathroom partitions and other miscellaneous things.

On our return we have been enjoying school lunch after the kids are done eating. Good Philly Cheesesteak sandwiches yesterday. A bit noisy until the kids leave but they're fun to watch. God bless the teachers and staff that can do that most important work of training the young "in the nurture and admonition of the Lord".

The painting is still not done as they said it was too cold to paint in there. The heaters won't be turned on until sometime this next week when power will be finally brought into the building. It was comfortable in there yesterday at about 48 degrees.

Along with that the floors are now stained and the well has been drilled. Things coming up this week are installing electrical devices, and putting in the cabinet and window sills. Ceiling grid has been put off until the following week.

I included another picture of the front of the building because it now includes a flagpole. Pretty cool.

Thanks for you work and interest. God Bless!
